Present owners are Mr. & Mrs. John Kemery. The rear part of the house was built in 1814, and the front part in 1834. It was built by Truman Baker for Mr. Whitney Clark. The house is in good condition.

Front part of the house is two-stories high and the rear part is one and one-half. The front sash and front door have been replaced. The original front door is now hanging in the door opening from the kitchen to the wood shed.

Foundation walls are of stone, joist and rafters of rear portion are of logs, front portion are of hewn timbers. Exterior walls are covered with siding. Present roofs are now covered with a standing seam tin roof.

At the death of Mr. Clark, the property was willed to Mrs. Jerome Pratt, daughter of Mr. Clark, and at her death the property was willed to Mr. Harry Pratt, son, and sold by him in 1927 to Mr. Kemery.

Ornamental detail on pilasters are found in this locality only.
